MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: STU EIZENSTAT by DeLentini
LYNN DAFT LD
SUBJECT: Recommendation for an Emergency
Declaration - Virgin Islands

Governor King of the Territory of the Virgin Islands has requested emergency assistance under the provisions of Section 305 of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 in order to obtain Federal assistance to alleviate the impact of a drought.

Governor King reported that the lack of adequate rainfall in the Virgin Islands during the period January - May 1977 has caused extensive drought conditions on the three islands which comprise the Virgin Islands. The conditions have resulted in damage to fields, the depletion of livestock feed, and death of numerous small livestock. The Governor requested that emergency livestock feed assistance be made available in the affected areas.

Emergency livestock feed assistance provides financial aid to eligible livestock producers to purchase up to 10 pounds of feed grains or feed grain equivalent per beef cow or other animal equivalent per day. Assistance is calculated on the basis of two cents per pound of corn equivalent, not to exceed 50 percent of the actual cost.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA), in coordination with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has assessed the need for assistance. Normal rainfall in the Virgin Islands is 42.30 inches per year; however, in 1976, the Territory received only 32.74 inches and, during the first five months of this year, has received only 3.99 inches of rain against a normal rainfall of 8.70 inches. Ground conditions in the islands are scorched and barren, and 95 percent of the pasture land has been depleted. Fifty percent of the sorghum crop, which is used for silage, could not be harvested due to the inability to plant a second crop.

FROM: STU EIZENSTAT by D. R. Stat.

SUBJECT: Additional Information on Emergency Declaration for the Virgin Islands

You requested the following additional information on the recommendation for an emergency declaration for the Virgin Islands:

(1) Type of Aid:

All of the assistance to be provided would be financial aid for eligible livestock producers. To be eligible, a producer must (a) have suffered a substantial loss in the livestock feed normally produced on his farm for his livestock; (b) not have enough feed for his livestock for the program period and (c) be required to make feed purchases in quantities larger than normal. The level of aid for the individual producer is determined by multiplying the number of animal units by a daily allowance per eligible animal unit (not to exceed 10 pounds per day) and subtracting the total quantity of feed already available for use during the feeding period. In no case is this allowance to exceed the quantity of feed lost because of the drought, as determined by local representatives of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The reimbursement is made on the basis of 2¢ per pound of eligible grain or grain equivalent, not to exceed half of actual costs. With corn now selling around $2.35 per bushel, the maximum payment of 2¢ per pound is usually made.

This assistance has been provided in parts of 22 states thus far this year. At this time, 325 counties in 16 states are eligible for assistance.

(2) Cost:

FDAA has estimated that the cost of assistance would be about $440,000. That amount assumes 325 farmers feeding 6,100 head of cattle will qualify for assistance for a period of four months.

The total cost of this program since it was started in June 1976 has been about $45 million.

We have proposed, as part of the Drought Assistance Program you sent the Congress, to transfer the authority for this Program from HUD to USDA but the Congress has not yet acted.

SUBJECT: Recommendation for an Emergency

Shu - 2 It's not necessary for you to retype Pat's letter! b) What will this and be - cost and in what form? J

Governor King of the Territory of the Virgin Islands has requested emergency assistance under the provisions of Section 305 of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 in order to obtain Federal assistance to alleviate the impact of a drought.

Governor King reported that the lack of adequate rainfall in the Virgin Islands during the period January - May 1977 has caused extensive drought conditions on the three islands which comprise the Virgin Islands. The conditions have resulted in damage to fields, the depletion of livestock feed, and death of numerous small livestock. The Governor requested that emergency livestock feed assistance be made available in the affected areas.

Emergency livestock feed assistance provides financial aid to eligible livestock producers to purchase up to 10 pounds of feed grains or feed grain equivalent per beef cow or other animal equivalent per day. Assistance is calculated on the basis of two cents per pound of corn equivalent, not to exceed 50 percent of the actual cost.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA), in coordination with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has assessed the need for assistance. Normal rainfall in the Virgin Islands is 42.30 inches per year; however, in 1976, the Territory received only 32.74 inches and, during the first five months of this year, has received only 3.99 inches of rain against a normal rainfall of 8.70 inches. Ground conditions in the islands are scorched and barren, and 95 percent of the pasture land has been depleted. Fifty percent of the sorghum crop, which is used for silage, could not be harvested due to the inability to plant a second crop.

The Territory's farms produce 100 percent of the islands' milk supply and 20 percent of the beef consumed. Depletion of the dairy herd would require the importation of milk at higher prices. Reduction of herds to foundation size is conducted as a matter of course; however, additional depletion of the herds would be difficult since cattle cannot be sold off the islands because of a tick problem peculiar to the Virgin Islands. Cattle sold or slaughtered cannot be replaced by later shipping stock to the Islands as cattle on the Virgin Islands are a special breed which are tick resistant. Recovery from serious depletion of the herds would be very difficult and would take some years to achieve as imported cattle have a 90 percent mortality rate.

In order to maintain current herd levels, livestock will have to be fed for a period of approximately four months, assuming that precipitation allows the pastures to return to normal. At the present cost of feed per hundredweight and at current feed levels, this could result in a total cost to the Government of the Virgin Islands of $437,313. This expenditure represents over 20 percent of the Virgin Islands' gross revenue derived from beef and dairy sales. In order to obtain this revenue, farmers would have to sell more than 20 percent of their foundation herds. Such a loss would have a severe impact on the resources and capability of livestock producers to recover.

On the basis of FDAA's investigation and full consideration of all the facts, they have concluded that this situation is beyond the effective response capabilities of the Territorial Government. They therefore recommend that you declare an emergency for the Territory of the Virgin Islands.

We concur in the FDAA assessment of this situation and recommend that you sign the attached letter to Secretary Harris.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

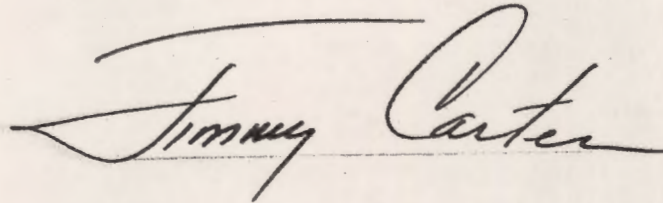

Dear Madam Secretary:

I have determined that the impact of a drought on the Territory of the Virgin Islands is of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant a declaration of an emergency under Public Law 93-288. I therefore declare that such an emergency exists in the Territory of the Virgin Islands.

In order to provide Federal assistance, you are hereby authorized to allocate, from funds available for these purposes, such amounts as are necessary to provide Federal disaster assistance authorized by law and by this declaration.

I expect regular reports on progress made in meeting the effects of this emergency, the extent of Federal assistance already made available, and a projection of additional assistance required, if any.

Sincerely,

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: STU EIZENSTAT By D. Roberts
LYNN DAFT Lynn
SUBJECT: Recommendation for an Emergency
Declaration - Nevada

Governor O'Callaghan of Nevada has requested emergency assistance under the provisions of Section 305 of the Disaster Relief Act of 1974 in order to obtain Federal assistance to alleviate the impact of a drought.

The Governor reported that drought conditions which have existed during the past two years have caused severe hardship in Elko and Humboldt Counties, and requested that emergency livestock feed and cattle transportation assistance be made available. He further stated that, although his request was limited at this time to these two counties, additional counties in northern and central Nevada have also been experiencing severe drought conditions and that Federal assistance may also be needed in these areas as well when additional data becomes available.

Emergency livestock feed assistance provides financial aid to eligible livestock producers to purchase up to 10 pounds of feed grains or feed grain equivalent per beef cow or other animal equivalent per day. Assistance is calculated on the basis of two cents per pound of corn equivalent, not to exceed 50 percent of the actual cost. Cattle transportation assistance pays up to two-thirds of the actual cost, not to exceed established Interstate Commerce Commission transportation rates up to $24 per head, to move animals between home pastures and surplus grazing areas.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration (FDAA), in coordination with the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has assessed the need for assistance. In Elko County, rainfall during the period October 1, 1976 - April 30, 1977, totaled less than 30 percent of normal, while rainfall during the same period in the previous year was slightly more than 70 percent of normal. This is the second year of dry conditions, and rainfall totals during this year are much less than half of the previous year's totals. In Humboldt County, rainfall is generally slightly less than 30 percent of normal and the conditions have had an adverse impact on range resources, hay, feed, and grain production. Stream flows in the area range from nearly 40 percent of normal to four percent of normal, and it is likely that many smaller streams and creeks will go dry as the summer months are the dry season in Nevada.

The drought has had a serious effect on livestock operations in Elko County, where some producers have had to cull their herds by as much as 50 - 60 percent. Approximately 5,000 cattle have been sold to date because of the drought conditions and lack of feed grazing areas. In Humboldt County, 5 - 10 percent of the livestock, including sheep and cattle, have already been culled, and it is probable that some producers will have to liquidate their herds if Federal assistance is not provided.

The assessment revealed that 265 of the 495 livestock producers in these counties require Federal aid in order to feed 38,300 animals. Emergency livestock feed and cattle transportation assistance will be adequate to meet the critical needs. Your declaration of an emergency will make this assistance available.

Federal assistance for the required feed and cattle transportation is estimated at $346,000 through September 1, 1977. This is the earliest date when Federal assistance will no longer be required, assuming that precipitation allows the pastures to return to normal.

On the basis of their investigations and full consideration of all the facts, FDAA has concluded that this situation is beyond the effective response capabilities of the State and local governments. They therefore recommend that you declare an emergency for the State of Nevada.

We concur in the FDAA assessment of this situation and recommend that you sign the attached letter to Secretary Harris.

SUBJECT:

National Endowment for the Humanities

Senator Pell and Congressman Brademas appreciated seeing you and came away from their meeting with you convinced of your long-term interest in cultural affairs. I don't think they helped much with the problem of defining the mission of NEH.

At this point, I would like to propose that you interview Joe Duffey for the position of chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Given the current situation, he appears to me to be the best candidate for that position. First, as a scholar and a teacher, he would be acceptable to the humanities constituency. Second, he is closely identified with you and with your policies because of his involvement in our campaign. Third, he is the kind of person with whom we could work closely in studying the question of whether the two Endowments should be merged.

Appointment of Duffey (or someone like him) to the Humanities chairmanship in the near future would fill the vacuum that exists there now. Since Nancy Hanks' appointment does not expire until October 1st, we would have several months during which to study the alternatives, including:

- no change in the present structure
- a close merger of the two Endowments under a single chairmanship
- some kind of structural change which strengthens the Federal Council on the Arts (an overlapping body - now without much power) and gives it a more central coordinating role in the life of both Endowments.

If you wish, I will proceed to set up an appointment for Duffey.

*Bert & Stu -

J*

FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM JOE CALIFANO jc

Here are my views on how best to work with the House to reduce the appropriations for the Department currently contained in the FY 1978 House Committee Appropriations Bill.

The present attempt to compile a list of programs to be reduced by amendment on the House floor is doomed to failure. Any specific list of cuts is certain to energize a set of constituencies which will produce "rub-the-President's-nose-in-it" defeat. There is an alternative, however, which has a much greater chance of success, or at least accumulating a sizeable number of Democratic votes.

Let's propose appropriation language which:

- Identifies a specific amount which the Department can withhold from obligation.
- Provides that we can reduce appropriations activities, or programs, by as much as 5 or 10 percent.
- Provides that no program will be reduced below the FY 1977 appropriation level or your FY 1978 budget request, whichever is higher.
- Cuts the BOGS program by $230 million, the amount of the overestimate in our budget.

At 5 percent, we would reduce the appropriations by $400 million; at 10 percent, by $535 million. The 10 percent does not double the amount of reduction because the reduction is limited to the higher of either the FY 1977 appropriations level or the Carter FY 1978 budget request. When added to the $230 million BOGS cut, this would result in a reduction from the Appropriations Committee aggregate figure on controllables of $630 million or $765 million.

I recommend the 5 percent plus BOGS alternative for $630 million.

There should also be an exchange of letters between you and the House Democratic Leadership Committee which would contain an agreement to:

- Work to phase out Part B of Impact Aid over a time certain, not to exceed five years.
- Develop legislation which would rationalize (and perhaps, but not necessarily reduce) student aid programs in the Office of Education and throughout the government.

The advantages of this approach are:

- The general provision is similar to the compromise which Congress accepted after it sustained Nixon's FY 1970 and FY 1974 vetoes.
- It demonstrates that you are willing to accept some element of the Committee's priorities, but at the same time gives us some discretion on how to make the cut.
- Getting public agreement on impact aid will likely be regarded by the public and the press as a Presidential victory.
- So will getting a 5 or 10 percent reduction in the FY 1978 appropriation.
- Letters will be a more formal and firmer base for me to negotiate out impact aid programs and the changes in the student aid programs.

This proposal gives us our best shot at obtaining House floor support and should not array the interest groups so directly against us.

Even if we lose, we should be able to get a sizeable number of Democratic votes for the proposal and avoid a potentially embarrassing fight for the President and the Congress.

Obviously, before moving with this approach, it should be discussed with the Leadership.

The attached table gives you a sense of the impact of my proposal on the big money items.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

JAMES SCHLESINGER
JODY POWELL
BARRY JAGODA

SUBJECT:

Advertising Council

Because you indicated that your participation in a forthcoming meeting of the Advertising Council was "possible only", we feel compelled to provide a bit more background on this event and at the same time to urge that you agree to briefly address the 300 corporation executives coming to the White House for the meeting, June 22.

For the first time since 1945 (the Ad Council was formed to promote a unified national war effort), the Council agreed this year to devote the entire two days of the Conference to a specific theme--Energy Conservation--because of your commitment to that policy. Presidents have traditionally demonstrated their support for these public service efforts by greeting participants at the annual Washington Conference.

Here are the two reasons you should briefly participate in their conference:

- 1) It represents an excellent opportunity to personally meet with the heads of 300 major corporations -- including representatives from industry, advertising, and the media -- to give your endorsement to corporate energy conservation efforts. Their willingness to provide a forum for us to discuss such efforts with leaders of the American business community deserve your appreciation. (Much of the conference will be devoted to discussions of steps companies can take voluntarily to save energy.)
- 2) The Advertising Council is the major source of public service advertising, which could be of tremendous value in our efforts to promote energy conservation and other worthwhile endeavors. We are currently considering asking the Advertising Council to provide public service advertising in our promotion of the energy program. Your participation would be of great assistance in assuring their cooperation.

As a reminder, the session is an East Room greeting-event of about 15 minutes.

*Have -
Recommendation?
J*

List of Appointments for which Patrick Delaney wishes to be considered:

Vice President for Finance, Overseas Private Investment Corporation. Level V, Presidential appointment, but not Senate confirmation. (Since the President and Executive Vice President have not yet been appointed, it is not appropriate to consider Delaney for this at this time; in addition there are indications that Gov. Gilligan who has been involved in OPIC recommendations, would object - it is considered a "sensitive" position and should be filled very carefully.)

Delaware, Susquehanna or New England River Basin Commissions (Presidential appointments, not requiring Senate confirmation - do not require special qualifications - $37-39,000 approximately - we have 1 position on each to fill)

The other positions he listed as being of interest either are already filled or will not be because of reorganization. They are:

Commissioner, Internal Boundary Commission, U.S. & Canada GS-15 (candidate already identified)

Commissioner, Bureau of Reclamation (filled)

President, Inter-American Foundation (reorganization change)

President, Interama, Dept. of Commerce (This has never been funded and will not be under reorganization)

FLAG DAY AND NATIONAL FLAG WEEK, 1977

- - - - -

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Two hundred years ago, on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States.

In these two centuries our Nation has changed in many ways, but our flag remains an appropriate symbol of America. Its bold colors reflect the courage and determination of the American people, as its straight and simple lines reflect their straightforward character.

In celebrating this two hundredth anniversary let us resolve to honor our country's flag by displaying in our lives the qualities it reflects.

To commemorate the adoption of our Nation's flag, the Congress, by joint resolution of August 3, 1949 (63 Stat. 492, 36 U.S.C. 157), has requested the President to issue annually a proclamation calling for its appropriate observance. By joint resolution of June 9, 1966 (80 Stat. 194, 36 U.S.C. 157a), the Congress also requested the President to issue annually a proclamation designating the week which includes June 14 as National Flag Week.

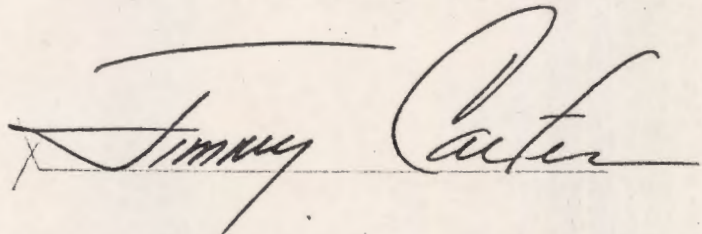

To encourage the American people to take pride in the Nation which that flag symbolizes, the Congress, by joint resolution of June 13, 1975 (89 Stat. 211, 36 U.S.C. 157b), has declared the twenty-one days from Flag Day through Independence Day as a period to honor America.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JIMMY CARTER, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning June 12, 1977, as National Flag Week and I call upon the appropriate officials of the Government to display the flag on all Government buildings during that week. I urge the American people to celebrate Flag Day and National Flag Week by displaying the flag of the United States at their homes and other suitable places.

I also call upon all Americans to observe the period from Flag Day through Independence Day as a period to honor America through public gatherings and other suitable activities that will demonstrate their pride in their Nation and its accomplishments.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this day of in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and first.

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Jimmy Carter". The signature is written in dark ink and is positioned above a horizontal line.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Charlie Schultze ^{C/S}
SUBJECT: Executive Director of the Council on Wage and Price
Stability (COWPS)

COWPS is now headed by an Acting Director -- Bob Crandall. While Crandall is a good man, we need a new face and a top caliber person with a national reputation. Discussions with members and staff of the Senate Banking Committee indicates that we may have to name a new Chairman before the Senate will move to extend the life of COWPS. (The current authorization expires on September 30.)

I propose Barry Bosworth, originally from Brookings, now on the CEA senior staff, as Executive Director. Bosworth is young (34), but a superb economist with a wide reputation in the field of wage, price, and industry analysis. He is currently leading the staff negotiations with the labor-management committee. He has been heavily and continuously involved in the problems of dealing with inflation, and is intimately familiar with all aspects of the subject.

I have checked this out with Mike Blumenthal and Ray Marshall. They both know him and agree he would be a good appointment. I have also checked with Juanita Kreps, who knows him less well, but has no objections.

If you approve on a tentative basis, I will then run a check with Tom Donahoe at the AFL-CIO and with several business leaders to make sure there is no major opposition.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: BO CUTLER

SUBJECT: Bill Milliken's Proposal Regarding Integration of Human Services

You asked two questions last Thursday:

1. What was the source of agency funds for this project?
2. What assurance do you have that this won't turn into a permanent program?

Answers:

1. The funds are from either departmental R&D funds or the Secretary's discretionary funds.
2. Federal participation will be reduced by 25 percent in each of the next four years. Private and local fund raising efforts are based on an understanding of this schedule. The Federal working group will develop an evaluation system which also meshes with this schedule.
